Give to Caesar what is Caesar's

Isn't this just the most wonderful, non confrontational response to a tricky question that could have landed our Lord in deep water. And yet His reply cuts straight to the heart of the challenge of what it means to be a human.

From the very begin of creation we have found a challenge between the call of the earthly in contrast to the promise of the eternal. In essence we are constantly being asked "Do we want our rewards here and now, or do we work for the eternal reward of being in God's loving embrace?"

We see this duality of choice played out between Adam, Eve and the temptation of the apple, the Israelites in the wilderness looking back at the perceived comfort of life back in Egypt, Jacob's brother Esau, selling out his birth-right for a bowl of soup. And poor Peter's challenge of the earthly desire to physically survive versus the acknowledgement of Jesus in the middle of the mob as he says " I do not know this man" (Mt 26:72). Even the tempting of Christ saw the devil trying to draw Jesus into putting the worldly desires ahead of the kingdom of His Father; trying to tempt Him with food, earthly power and a rejection of God.

And this is the dilemma we see being played out day after day as we turn on the news. Choices reflecting the desire for personal/national wealth, greed, our "right" to pleasure versus the personal sacrifice for the sake of the common good, in the image of God's Kingdom.

For where your Treasure is there your Heart
will be also

LUKE 12:34

Just a thought .... Are we Caesar's of God's?

As we reflect on the Gospel message, we consider the reality that earthliness continuously tries to pull us away from Godliness.

In Acts (2:42), we read how the early Christian communities “devoted themselves to the Apostles teaching, living together in Christ’s fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer.

This division of earthly and Godly brings us some beautiful moments to spend in prayer and reflection. Perhaps you might like to share with the Lord your thoughts on the following this week?

- What does “devoted” mean to you?
- What does the “community in Christ” mean to you?
- What does the Eucharist mean to you?

Pray for those suffering at the hands of war

O Lord, God of infinite mercy, we humbly implore You to look down on the nations now engaged in war. Do not count Your people's sins against them, but grant them true repentance, that the lusts of the human heart may be conquered by Your Spirit of gentleness and righteousness. Look in mercy on those immediately exposed to peril. Comfort the prisoners, relieve the sufferings of the wounded, and show mercy to the dying. According to Your good and gracious will, remove the causes and occasions of this war, and restore peace among the nations; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Passing the faith on to our Youngsters

Finding ways to share the love, joy and hope of our faith with our children/grandchildren can be challenging can't it. Here are some great websites with ideas, tips, video's and resources to help us in this journey. Have a look, I'd love to know what you think. Do you have any suggestions to share with the Parish?

It's through an encounter with the Holy Spirit that the faith is truly passed on, and sustained.
