Advent. A time for preparation.

I always think that the words of Isaiah are so beautifully poetic and full of wonderful thought provoking images wrapped in words. And today's extract does not disappoint.

Advent is a time of looking back over the preceding year and reflecting how our faith has been lived out. A chance to reflect and make some changes for the year ahead. Have we had a good year? Have we hit a few challenges? Have we found ourselves getting a little lost or wavering in our faith?

The new year is a chance to reflect, regroup and to go again. And this is where Isaiah gives us a wonderful image to reflect upon, as he reminds us that we are the clay and that God is the potter.

Just as the potters hands shape, mould and form the clay, we too have the opportunity to allow God to do the same with us, if we become pliable and malleable in His hands, giving ourselves to His will for us. Allowing the Holy Spirit to work within us and lead us to a more intimate, deepened relationship with God through Jesus Christ. Our Emmanuel.

The ups and downs of life are like the potters hands travelling up and down the clay, each passing of the potters hands removing a little roughness or unevenness from the finished article, so that one day we might stand in the presence of God "formed" in the image and likeness of Christ.

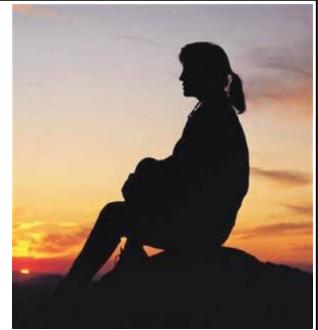

Thank you for your generous donations last week, towards to running of our Parish .

Just a thought ....

In today's second reading, St Paul affirms to us that "we have been enriched" in so many ways "thanks to our encounter with Jesus Christ" and that as a result of this encounter we "will never be without the gifts of the Holy Spirit".

In his encyclical Evangelii Gaudium, (3) Pope Francis calls us all as he invites "all Christians, everywhere, at this very moment, to a renewed personal encounter with Jesus Christ, or at least an openness to letting him encounter them; I ask all of you to do this unfailingly each day. No one should think that this invitation is not meant for him or her, since no one is excluded from the joy brought by the Lord. The Lord does not disappoint those who take this risk; whenever we take a step towards Jesus, we come to realise that He is already there, waiting for us with open arms. "

As we prepare ourselves through Advent for the coming of our Saviour—let's ask ourselves and important question to get us started—

- How can I deepen that encounter, getting to know and to see Jesus in my life each day?

Bring a friend to Christ this Christmas

Do you know someone who has been going through a tough time this year? Do you know someone who has fallen away from the Church for whatever reason? Do you know someone who is looking for something in their lives, but doesn't quite know what it is they are looking for?

Wouldn't it be a wonderful gift of love and grace to invite that person, that family member, to come along to experience the hope and joy of Advent and true meaning of Christmas and the coming of our saviour Jesus Christ. As Pope Francis tells (see above) "no one is excluded from the joy brought by the Lord"

God loves us so completely He gives His only begotten Son for the salvation of all humanity. Let's share this gift of hope and joy with a loving heart this Advent.
