The Body and blood of Christ is our Salvation

The original, Old Testament covenant was sealed by a sacrifice and by the sharing of the blood between God (signified by the altar) and his people as a sign of new life.

In this context, Jesus' brings us a new covenant and gives us a new sacrifice, that of Himself.

Today's Gospel is like the warranty and guarantee that, each time we receive the Body and Blood of Christ, we are bound anew into His covenant. The same story is also told in the same way in the Gospels of Matthew, Luke and John. Each time we listen to the words of the Gospel read by Father Max during Mass, we are re-entering into Jesus' new covenant. Each Eucharist brings us to the sacrifice of Christ and calls for us to commit ourselves to the Kingdom, to engage in a new, committed and eternal alliance with Christ.

How do we prepare ourselves to receive the body and blood—the Corpus Christi ?

Just a thought...

Pope Francis recent reflection on the teaching of our faith ...

He starts by saying that we are often too focused on the “rules and laws of the Church” when teaching our families and each other, and stories of “you can’t do this or say that”. However Pope Francis tells us that we should encourage each other to listen to the experiences of the grandparents and the mature members of our Parish Community who have through the journey of their lives, experienced the living presence of Christ and all it has brought to them

“What is often lacking, however, is a knowledge of the Church that comes from listening to and witnessing the real history of the faith and the life of the Church community, from the beginning to the present day. As children we learn the Word of God in catechism classes; but the Church is learned, as young people, in the classrooms and in the global information media. The narration of the history of faith should be like the Canticle of Moses, like the testimony of the Gospels and the Acts of the Apostles. In other words, a story capable of recalling God’s blessings with emotion and our failings with sincerity. It would be a good thing if the courses in catechesis were to include, from the very beginning, the habit of listening to the lived experience of the elderly, to the candid confession of the blessings received from God, which we must cherish, and to the faithful testimony of our own failures of fidelity, which we must repair and correct. The elderly enter the promised land, which God desires for every generation, when they offer to the young the beautiful initiation of their witness and pass on the story of the faith, the faith, in dialect, that familiar dialect, that dialect of the old to the young. Then, guided by the Lord Jesus, the old and the young together enter into His Kingdom of life and love. But all together. Everyone in the family, with this great treasure that is the faith passed on in conversation”.

What story of wisdom, hope and encounter with Christ do you have to share?
